New Fight Looms Over Curbs on Supreme Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — New fights over Supreme Court bills and other unfinished legislation confronted Congress today as leaders clung to hopes for winding up the current session this week-end.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas set Saturday night as the target for adjournment.

But a big pile of work still lay ahead — the bulk of it with the Senate.

Today, for the third day in a row, the Senate considered legislation aimed at lessening the effect of recent Supreme Court decisions.

Opponents Wednesday night lost a move to quash debate on a measure designed to prevent state laws from being ruled invalid because they parallel federal acts. A move to table the bill, which is similar to one passed by the House, failed 46-39.

Ohio Sens. Frank J. Lausche (D) and John W. Bricker (R) split when the Senate voted to table the Butler-Jenner amendment designed to curb the review powers of the Supreme Court. Lausche voted for the motion to table and Bricker voted against it.

Earlier, the Senate killed by a 49-41 vote a bill to curb the review powers of the Supreme Court and to undo the effects of several rulings in Communist cases.

Should the Senate clear the decks of the court bills, Johnson said he hoped to move on today to consideration of the foreign aid money bill and a measure to hike the national debt ceiling from 280 to 288 billion dollars.

Johnson listed a dozen pieces of legislation which he said the Senate must act on before quitting for the year.

Nevertheless, he told the Senate, "We hope to get out of here Saturday night." It was the first time he had set an adjournment goal.

But a new snarl developed when the Senate and House differed on how much control Congress should exercise over the new civilian space agency.

The Senate, by an 86-0 count, insisted on keeping its provision to require that the agency obtain congressional consent each year for its programs. The House, by a 236-126 vote, rejected the Senate provision, which had been tacked onto a compromise $3,694,805,478 appropriations bill covering a variety of federal programs.

The Senate requested a new conference with the House in an effort to break the deadlock.

There were about 125 differences between the House and Senate in amendments to the appropriations measure, but all were resolved except the one dealing with the space agency.

The House accepted without dissent a Senate amendment to bar spending any money for studies of a possible American surrender in an atomic war. The subject touched off heated debate in the Senate last week after reports circulated that such studies had been undertaken. President Eisenhower called the furor nonsense.

The House turned again today to legislation to authorize government subsidies and price supports for Western minerals. A vote, expected Wednesday, was put off for a day.

A bill to permit the United States to help West Europe undertake a peaceful program of atomic energy uses cleared the House and went to the White House. The passage was by voice vote.

At the same time, the House approved a resolution okaying the Euratom agreement signed by the United States at Brussels last May. The Senate had previously given its approval to the agreement, which embraces France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

The White House declined either to confirm or deny the report, which came Wednesday night from an informed source.

The source, asking to remain anonymous, said the government hopes a temporary halt might pave the way to a permanent international agreement for a test suspension, with adequate safeguards.

The United States has been conducting a test series in the Pacific. These tests began last spring and are scheduled to end soon.

The Soviet Union announced an unilateral test suspension last March at the end of a test series. Britain has been preparing to start a new series of tests in the Pacific. Scientists from both Western and Communist nations announced agreement Tuesday on a technical test suspension.

CFD Battles Blaze on Scioto St.

Firemen were called to S. Scioto St. at 9:45 p. m. yesterday to extinguish a house fire. The house is part of the D. M. White estate.

Fire Chief Talmer Wise said damage was estimated at $150. The blaze probably was caused by a cigarette which dropped on a bed, he added.

Chief Wise said the house supposedly was vacant. However, the blaze indicated that someone was making use of at least one room of the home.

Firemen said two rooms and a stairway were heavily damaged. They battled the flames for almost an hour.

The summons was answered by Chief Wise and Firemen Noble Barr, Ray Anderson and Martin Garner.

CHARGES AND DENIALS — Teamster Barney Baker (left) heatedly denies sworn testimony that he knew the whereabouts of the missing Greenleaf kidnap money or was a good friend of New York Gov. Averell Harriman. Baker's one-time girl friend, Mrs. Ruth Brougher (right) told the Senate rackets committee that Baker was "very friendly" with Harriman.

Barney Baker's Memory Bad About Funds for Girl Friend

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert (Barney) Baker swore today he didn't use teamster money to support a blonde convicted slayer in luxury in Miami in 1955. He said he couldn't remember exactly where he did get the money.

Baker, a $125 a week teamsters union organizer at the time, said the funds he put out for blonde Mrs. Ruth Brougher were "nothing like" the $20,000 to $25,000 she has testified he lavished on her. He set the figure Wednesday at $7,000 or $8,000.

Pressed by the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee to tell the source of the thousands, the 300-pound Baker pleaded, "I can't remember. I don't want to perjure myself."

Baker, an ex-convict described by police as a onetime musclemen on the New York waterfront, said he had no recollection of threatening to kill Mrs. Brougher's lawyer or trying to strangle a Chicago hotel man who had complained about his bill. But he did not flatly deny he did those things.

He did deny giving to Mrs. Brougher's lawyer, George Everett, in an effort to fix the courts on her appeal from a manslaughter conviction.

Mrs. Brougher, 44, now is serving a 15-year sentence for the July, 1954, Miami parking lot slaying of Murray Dubois, a boy friend. She said he was pistol-whipping her and was shot in a struggle over the weapon.

Baker said he could pin down the source of only $4,000 of the money he spent on Mrs. Brougher.

The death sentences were decreed for Miss Salti's 22-year-old friend, Theodore Stephan; and Ahmed Mahmoud Ibrahim, 22, an employee of the Jordanian Health Department who was charged with leading the group.

Basil Hamati, 24, a photographer for the U.N. relief agency, was sentenced to 15 years. He was accused of smuggling explosives into Jordan on U.N. planes. A fifth defendant, Hamed Tewfiq Sammour, 22, was sentenced to 10 years.

The outcome of the trial to some extent undercut a new propaganda campaign which opponents of King Hussein outside Jordan had been trying to launch.

Adherents of President Nasser of the United Arab Republic had spread the word through the Arab world several days ago that all five defendants had been sentenced to hang. Nasser's Cairo radio called the black-haired, sullenly beautiful Miss Salti a Moslem Joan of Arc.

The trial was the second of persons charged with smuggling arms or explosives from Syria since the current crisis began. Thirteen persons were sentenced to death on Aug. 13.

Actually the girl is a Christian, a member of the Greek Orthodox Church. So is her fiancé.

The Soviet news agency Tass today joined in the cry, reprinting Cairo press reports that Miss Salti had been given an "unlawful death sentence" because she resented "the occupation of her homeland by British troops."

Bloodmobile Is Due Monday; Quota Remains at 150 Pints

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will visit Circleville from 11 a. m. to 5 p. m. Monday with a 150-pint quota on the books.

The Bloodmobile, to be parked at the Methodist Church, Main and Pickaway Sts., will be served by the ladies of the Circleville AME Church.

For years the Pickaway County quota has been 150 pints for every visit of the Bloodmobile. And, for years, Pickaway County has failed to reach the quota. The need for blood is particularly pressing at this time since just two persons used 30 pints of the blood within the last few weeks, although only 56 pints were donated during the Bloodmobile's last visit.

To make it easier for donors, a free taxi service will operate Monday. If you need a ride to the Bloodmobile, call 900. If you seek an appointment for a particular time, call the Red Cross office, 336.

Britain OKs Delivery Of New Arms for Iraq

LONDON (AP) — Britain has authorized the delivery of some light military equipment to the Iraq regime, the Foreign Office announced today.

U.S. Court Grants Delay In Arkansas Integration

Arabs Appear To Be Solving Own Problems

New Middle East Resolution Seen Ending U.N. Parley

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly headed today toward a quick end to its emergency session after formulations of a four-point Arab plan to bring peace to the Middle East.

Western diplomats predicted unanimous support of the 81 Assembly members for the resolution drawn up Wednesday night in a rare show of unanimity by the 10 Arab nations in the U.N.

The plan was an Arab modification of a Western-backed Norwegian resolution now pending before the Assembly, and both contained key points suggested by Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld and President Eisenhower. But the Arab resolution shied away from specific endorsement of earlier proposals for either a U.N. police force or more U.N. observers in the Middle East.

Like the Norwegian resolution, the Arab proposal calls on Hammarskjöld to make arrangements that would permit withdrawal of U.S. troops from Lebanon and British forces from Jordan.

A new feature is a reaffirmation of the Arab nations' previous pledges not to interfere in each others' affairs, pledges which the Lebanese and Jordanian governments have charged President Nasser's United Arab Republic with ignoring consistently.

The plan was cabled to the Arab capitals for approval. If this last hurdle is cleared, the resolution might be presented to the Assembly today, an Arab spokesman said. If it is adopted, the session might end tonight or Friday.

An American spokesman said the U.S. delegation "thoroughly approves the Arab countries' trying to deal themselves with the problem of protecting the independence of each of them." But he stopped short of outright endorsement of the new proposal, saying that the American delegates were giving it close study.

Secretary of State Dulles hastened back to the United Nations Wednesday night after a flying trip to Washington for a conference with Eisenhower. He went into immediate consultations with Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge on the Arab proposal.

The United States and Britain have been main supporters of the Norwegian proposal to ask Hammarskjöld to draft general recommendations for a Middle East settlement. The sudden Arab move made it doubtful the Norwegian plan would be put to a vote.

Crash Near Napoleon Fatal to 2 Persons

NAPOLÉON, Ohio (AP) — A two-car collision Wednesday night killed two persons and seriously injured three others on U. S. 24, ten miles east of here.

The dead are William H. Ranzau, 24, of Holland, Ohio, and Karen Cameron, 8, of Ridgeville Corners, Ohio.

Taken to Heller Memorial Hospital here, were Robert E. McGuire, 38, of Toledo; Miss Laddonna Wroblewski, 42, Napoleon, and Judy Cameron, 6, sister of the dead girl.

GRANDVIEW, Mo. (AP) — High over western Missouri a jet plane streaked northward toward Kansas Wednesday. It was unidentified, and thus presumed by the Air Force to be an enemy.

At Richards-Gebaur AFB here on the southern outskirts of Kansas City, a sleek F102A jet took off to intercept the invader.

Within minutes, 1st Lt. Roland Svane, 26, Seattle, and his interceptor sighted the aggressor aircraft at 41,000 feet.

Svane attacked. Three Falcon air-to-air missiles shot from the interceptor toward the target. One of them hit the tail of the plane, and the jet headed earthward. Its two crewmen bailed out.

Unfortunately, the enemy was a T33 Air Force trainer and Svane's attack was a routine practice maneuver. Routine, that is, until the three missiles, which automatically seek their targets and explode if they miss, were discharged.

The trainer's crew, 1st Lt. John D. Rice, 27, Sacramento, Calif., and 1st Lt. Raymond Zuhars Jr., 26, Evansville, Ind., escaped with cuts and bruises. They landed on a farm near Clinton, Mo.

Svane declined comment when asked what caused the Falcons to fire. Rice and Zuhars, who are being treated at Richards - Gebaur Hospital, were equally reticent.

Air Force officials said they are investigating.

INTEGRATION POT BOILS — Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus (right) replies quickly to President Eisenhower's vow that he again would use federal troops to enforce court-ordered public school integration. Faubus said the President need not expect him to use state militia to enforce integration at Central high school. Meanwhile, Chancellor (Judge) Guy Williams (left) of Little Rock added strength to the segregation fight by declaring two 1957 laws aimed at maintaining segregation to be constitutional.

Shed No Tears -- She's Loaded

Meg's Income Cut $25,200 a Year

LONDON (AP) — Princess Margaret became 28 today and automatically began losing another 9,000 pounds—$25,200—a year.

That's what it cost Queen Elizabeth's pretty sister not to have a husband.

Margaret's matrimonial losses are figured this way: Parliament in 1937 granted her an annuity of 6,000 pounds on attaining the age of 21, or upon marriage.

In 1952, Parliament increased the amount, to become payable on marriage, to 15,000 pounds a year.

This, of course, means that it costs her 9,000 pounds every year she remains single.

Shed no tears for Margaret's financial situation, however. She is loaded.

By law she and other members of the royal family are exempt from paying income tax.

They pay no inheritance tax. Margaret is known to have been left substantial sums by her father, King George VI, and her grandmother, Queen Mary.

She says no rent at Clarence House or at Royal Lodge, Windsor Great Park, her official residences.

She shares her residences with her mother, the Queen Mother, which means paying only half the food, electricity, gas, coal and water bill.

She celebrated her birthday in Scotland as the Queen's guest at Balmoral Castle.

At breakfast she was reported to have received her birthday presents.

A small family dinner party was on tap for the evening, after a royal family picnic on the shores of Loch Muick.

But she's still out another 9,000 pounds. And, unless it's the best kept secret in the Highlands, no suitor is coming through the rye.

Solons Cool On Any New Labor Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Labor legislation showed no signs of life today despite President Eisenhower's attempt to goad Congress into passing such a bill before adjournment.

It was hard to find any senator or representative who believed a labor bill could be pushed through in these final days of the session.

In a special statement Wednesday, Eisenhower expressed disappointment "that the Congress has thus far failed to enact legislation to curb the racketeering, corruption and abuses of trust and power" which he said the Senate Rackets Committee has found in the labor-management field.

7 Judges Agree To Allow Time For High Appeal

Action Comes After Gov. Faubus Readies Call to Legislature

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The 8th Circuit U.S. Court of Appeals today granted a stay today to its decision which would return seven Negro students to Central High School at Little Rock.

Chief Justice Archibald K. Gardner announced from his home at Huron, S. D., that the seven-judge court had agreed to grant the stay.

Gardner, who wrote the only dissent in the 6-1 decision that overturned U.S. District Court Judge Harry J. Lemley's 2½-year breather order, said the stay was granted so the Little Rock School Board could appeal to the Supreme Court.

The clerk of the appeals court, Robert Tucker, said a motion filed by the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People and the attorney for the Negro students would be denied. This motion asked that the appeals court issue its mandate on its decision reversing Judge Lemley immediately.

The NAACP had said that Judge Lemley's order would still be in effect when school starts Sept. 2 at Little Rock if the mandate wasn't issued immediately.

Judge Gardner said that the seven judges of the Circuit Court had previously agreed to the delay which was asked this morning in an application filed by the board.

The court action came as Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus alerted the state legislature for a special session starting Monday to deal with the explosive Central High School integration situation.

Thus it appeared that the Little Rock School Board failed Wednesday night to convince the governor it was doing all possible to delay re-entry of seven Negroes into the sprawling high school.

Mob riots broke out last fall when nine Negroes first entered the high school, and President Eisenhower sent paratroopers to restore order with bayonets.

Telegrams signed by Faubus went out today to the 100 House members and 35 state senators. The telegrams said that "you are requested to be prepared for a special session of the Legislature beginning Monday, Aug. 25, 1958."

Court Fight Looms over Ballot Label

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A court fight may be shaping up here over the use of three words on the Nov. 4 election ballot.

The words are "right to work" and appear in a proposed constitutional amendment to ban the union shop in Ohio.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown approved ballot forms Wednesday. The forms must be printed by county election boards by Sept. 5 for Ohio members of the armed forces and for civilians outside the United States.

United Organized Labor of Ohio, an organization formed by unions to oppose the anti-union shop proposal, objects to the words "right to work" on grounds they are misleading. The group has threatened court action to block their use.

A spokesman for the labor organization said a decision on any court action would come soon.

The proposed amendment reads in part: "No employer or labor organization shall deny or abridge the right to work by requiring membership or non-membership in, or payment or non-payment of money to, a labor organization as a condition of employment or continued employment in this state."

Not Friends, After All

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — Nearly every passing motorist waved at Robert F. McKenzie, driving a truck load of trash. He discovered at his next stop that the trash was on fire. "I knew I didn't know all those people," said McKenzie.

Pandemonium broke after the six judges chose a Swede. The spectators tried to rush the stage. A cordon of police and stadium attendants halted them while the newly crowned king and the judges—two Swedes and two Norwegians — sneaked out the back way.

Driver Appears On OMVI

One intoxicated driving count was on the local Municipal Court docket for yesterday and today.

The OMVI accusation was against Henry Wallis, 32, W. Mount St. He was held for the Pickaway County Grand Jury under $200 bond after entering a plea of innocent. He was arrested by city police.

Chester J. Penix Jr., 28, Columbus, was fined $25 and costs for permitting an unlicensed driver to operate a motor vehicle.

Clyde Prater, 29, Columbus, was fined $15 and costs for speeding at 75 miles per hour.

Louise George, 44, Route 2, Ashville, paid $10 and costs for failure to yield the right of way.

Lucile Barnhart, Covington, was fined $10 and costs for operating a vehicle on the wrong side of the street.

Airmen Held For Jury Here

Two Lockbourne airmen accused of grand larceny were bound to the Pickaway County Grand Jury today in Circleville Municipal Court.

Held for the jury are Paul Hoyt, 24, and Edwin Saulnier, 22. Bond was set at $1,000 each.

The airmen are accused of taking tires, wheels and auto accessories Tuesday night from the Deercreek Auto Parts yard, Williamsport.

They were apprehended by Ovid Clark, Williamsport Marshall. The affidavits were signed by Deputy Sheriff Robert Hoover.

Oils, Coppers Lead Advance By Stocks

NEW YORK (AP)—Oils and coppers paced a stock market advance in fairly active trading early this afternoon.

Leading issues rose from fractions to about a point.

News that Kennecott is expanding production from a five-day to a six-day week spurred the copper shares to gains of a point or better.

Oils were higher from the start. The boost in the allowable Texas oil production continued a help to oil stocks.

Steels, motors, rubbers, chemicals, rails and tobaccos also showed plus signs. Aircrafts backed down a bit. Drugs were mixed.

Texas Co., Getty Oil and Gulf Oil ran up more than a point apiece. Royal Dutch and Standard Oil (New Jersey) were about a point to the good.

Kennecott advanced past a point. Phelps Dodge and International Nickel rose around a point each.

Chesapeake & Ohio and Southern Pacific rose about a point. Goodrich jumped about two and Lorillard recovered a point or so of its 2½-point loss taken Wednesday.

High-priced A & P added another eight or nine points in continued response to published opinions that it may sell its voting shares to the public. There is no voting power in the stock currently traded.

U.S. government bonds were narrowly mixed.

Greeks Altered For 'Great Battle'

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Leaflets were scattered in Nicosia streets today calling on Greek Cypriots to be ready for the "great battle" against the new British plan for Cyprus.

The leaflet was signed by EOKA, Greek Cypriot underground.

The British proposed a seven-year period of modified home rule for the Greek majority and the Turkish minority on this British crown colony.

The Greek Cypriots want union with Greece. The Turkish Cypriots want partition to protect their minority status if there is any change.

Kids Too Good At Running Sale

CHICAGO (AP)—Ralph Simons' stuffed animals were selling like crazy. The trouble was he wasn't selling them.

Simons, a carnival concessionaire, was asleep at home during the sale Wednesday.

Youngsters found the animals in his parked car and promptly sold 30 of them. The hottest item appeared to be small pandas—going for 50 cents.

Simons later told police each doll, panda and teddy bear cost him $4.

"I'd buy them back at $2 each," he said, "no questions asked."

Another Satellite Launching Looms

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The Army appeared today to be preparing a Jupiter-C rocket for another Explorer satellite launching.

There was no indication how soon it might come.

The Defense Department has maintained strict secrecy about satellite launch programs.

Signs of increased activity in the Army area of the missile test center Wednesday gave some indication that a new Explorer try might be made this week or next.

The Navy may attempt another Vanguard satellite launching here next month.

Rocket Engine Tests Curtailed

The lamb-wool cardigan in stratosphere blue has bell-shaped sleeves. With it go gray flannel slacks, a button-down Oxford shirt that's drip-dry, and a narrow rep tie.

PLAN CLOSEUP STUDY OF MARS—Richard D. White and Henry K. Hebel, scientists at the Boeing plant in Seattle, Wash., look over a model of their design for a basic vehicle which could make initial closeup studies of the planet Mars. The full-sized contrivance would be about 40 feet across, weigh 600 pounds and be launched from a satellite station in space. It would take power from the sun and would take about three years to orbit Mars before returning to its launching place.

QUARREL'S END—Mrs. Charlotte Atkinson, 33, of Van Nuys, Calif., drinks a cup of coffee after being booked on suspicion of murder at Van Nuys police station. Police say she seized a shotgun during a violent quarrel and fired at her husband in their living room, in the presence of their three children.

Do-It-Yourself Dentistry Is OK

NEW YORK (AP)—Seven-year-old Debbie Scott of Brooklyn was told she'd have to have two loose front teeth pulled by a dentist. Debbie asked her mother what the dentist would do.

"Well, he's going to take something that looks like a pair of pliers and pull out the old teeth," her mother replied.

Debbie skipped away. A little later returned. Her wide grin played a big toothless gap. She'd found a pair of pliers, gone before the bathroom mirror and done her own dentistry.

"Didn't hurt a bit," she assured her mother.

The legislators presumably would be presented with bills aimed at halting integration. A pupil assignment law already is on the books, but the board has not used it.

The governor met with the school board and the superintendent for almost two hours Wednesday night, and in a later press conference refused to say what was discussed.

School Supt. Virgil Blossom Wednesday night announced the board has petitioned the 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals for a stay of its Monday order. This order called for continued integration at Central High.

The Circuit Court reversed a decision by U.S. Dist. Judge Harry Lemley, who earlier ruled the board could delay integration for 2½ years.

The petition for a stay is aimed at delay until the board can place the question before the U.S. Supreme Court.

Speculation on what the Legislature can do includes passage of bills withdrawing state aid from any integrated school, or giving the governor power to close Central High, among others.

Attorneys for the seven Negroes have urged the Circuit Court to make the ruling effective at once so the Negroes can be admitted when school starts.

Pacifists Handed Maximum Fines

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP)—Two pacifists received maximum fines Wednesday for attempting to halt construction of an Atlas missile launching installation near here.

Fines of $100 and costs were assessed against the Rev. Mr. Theodore Olson, 26, of Fallington, Pa., and Eleanor Calkins, 22, of Chicago by Justice of the Peace Tosh Suyematsu. They were charged with trespassing.

Olson also was fined $20 and sentenced to two days in jail when Suyematsu found him in contempt.

cal system for policing any test suspension. This agreement was reached in seven weeks of talks in Geneva, Switzerland.

The eight-nation conference held a final formal session at which a part of the technical agreement reached was announced.

The seven-week conference was confined strictly to scientific questions. The Western delegates were instructed to hold no negotiations toward agreement on a test ban, but only to make recommendations to the governments on how such a ban could be placed.

The experts urged that control station staffs should have complete freedom of movement for on-the-spot investigations, and that stations should be set up at sea as well as on land.

An announcement said the combined use of the various known methods for detecting nuclear explosions could make control of a test ban feasible "within certain specific limits."

The announcement did not explain these limits.

The conference's published findings did not recommend any definite number of control stations, nor a maximum effective distance between the stations.

The announcement listed the following methods to be used by the control stations: "collecting samples of radioactive debris, recording seismic, acoustic and hydroacoustic waves, and the radio signal method, together with the use of on-site inspection of unidentified events which might be suspected of being nuclear explosions."

Ohioan Arrested On Bad Check Rap

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—A Steubenville, Ohio, man wanted in that state for parole violation has been arrested here and accused of cashing fraudulent checks. It's the same charge for which he served three years of a 1-20 year sentence in Ohio.

Wilbert John Meyer, 33, was picked up by police Wednesday and turned over to federal authorities after he tried unsuccessfully to cash a check at a store.

Police said he printed fraudulent payroll checks and cashed them in a nine-state spending spree. Checks in his possession were facsimiles of payroll checks issued by Trans World Airlines and the International Business Machines Corp., police added.

Russian 'Reservations'

American scientists engaged in the space satellite experiments during the International Geophysical Year may have been overly optimistic in expecting full cooperation from the Russians.

In any case, now they find their Russian counterparts making important reservations with respect to the data to be exchanged.

After a frustrating series of conferences in Moscow in the interest of automatic publication of information by both groups, the Americans have admitted they drew "a goose egg" and that there would be "big gaps" in the data the Russians were willing to supply.

As if to emphasize the openness with which America supplies data it gathers, the U. S. group already is passing along preliminary information gleaned in the early travels of Explorer IV. But the Russians refused to tie themselves down in any pact calling for complete disclosure.

This secretiveness covers such information as the length of the antennae of their sputniks, the specifications of launching rockets, the basic data on each satellite's elliptical orbit. These details and others, the Americans say, are important in any exchange.

Americans in this phase of the IGY effort apparently are finding the Russians just as inclined toward one-way cooperation as are their colleagues in other areas of world affairs. Perhaps by adopting the same withholding tactics, instead of being quick in giving out space data, the Americans can persuade the Russians that cooperation means "give" as well as "take."

U. S. scientists doubtless want to keep their part of the agreements which cover the IGY program generally. But at this point it seems the Soviet's scientists have released other nations from any space pacts they may have joined.

Rumblings from Red China

While everybody is watching the Middle East, there are premonitory rumblings from the China Seas. The Chinese communists have for some time been engaged in a military buildup on the mainland opposite the Nationalist Chinese island of Formosa, accompanied by a renewed propaganda buildup about American "occupation" of Formosa and its inevitable "liberation" by Peiping.

This may be a false alarm. But Peiping makes no secret of its determination to take Formosa sooner or later.

Three years ago the United States put itself on record: By joint congressional resolution and presidential proclamation, the United States pledged itself to fight against any invasion of Formosa and the Pescadores.

There is a constant temptation to Peiping to gamble—probably when the U. S. is deeply involved with a threat on the other side of the world—that Washington will not move to defend the islands of Quemoy and Matsu.

No Discomforts in Sahara

By ANDREW BOROWIEC
(For Hal Boyle)

HASSI MESSAOU, Algeria (AP)—Some 3,000 men live and work in the heart of the Sahara without suffering many of the hazards and discomforts of desert life.

Their major problem is lack of women.

The men are employees of French oil companies building what they hope is a future French oil empire amid sun-baked sand dunes.

They live in air-conditioned huts with running water, showers, and plugs for electric razors. They are served five-course meals in air-conditioned dining rooms. Their bars offer a variety of French and foreign drinks—at a fraction of the normal price.

Every day planes land on airstrips in the middle of the desert with mail and newspapers.

The wages of the men of Hassi Messaoud oil site are on the average twice as high as those of comparable workers in France. Their lodging costs nothing and their food costs about $15 a month.

One of the oil companies estimated that in addition to salary and initial investment in living quarters, each man costs it $14 a day.

The workers also receive special bonuses. In summer, when the outside temperature reaches 125 degrees Fahrenheit, the bonuses are the highest.

Every three weeks, the men of the Hassi Messaoud site are transported by plane—free—for a week's rest in Algiers, 500 miles away. Those who want to go to France must pay their own way.

Ninety per cent of the workers are French citizens—of whom two-thirds are Moslems. About 7 per cent are ex-Foreign Legion members and about 3 per cent are skilled foreign technicians.

The site is linked with the oasis of Ouargla—some 60 miles north—by a recently built concrete road. Heavy trucks roll over the road while camels plod through the sands nearby.

Most of the old-timers are proud of making it into an oil town.

None of the oil companies, however, has managed to solve the most acute problem—lack of women. The site is still not ready to install family dwellings, and anyway the added cost frightens the firms.

Said an ex-Foreign Legionnaire: "It is the third week here that always seems the longest. And then your week in Algiers seems like a day and you're back here for another three weeks, thinking of your next leave. That's our life."

Politics Fractures Country

It used to be, when Americans really cared, that each citizen voted individually not under racial, religious or color pressures.

The introduction of the term, minority, and its widespread use for political advantage by Franklin D. Roosevelt and his political cohorts, has come to roost in all its ugliness in the enormous vote which Adam Clayton Powell, Jr., received in the Democratic primaries in Harlem.

Whatever may be Powell's virtues, he ran strictly as a Negro racist against dominant white political control, and on that issue Harlem responded to his call of "Hey, Rube!"

The fragmentation of our people along racial, religious, previous nationality and color lines serves only politicians who prefer the rule of divide and get elected.

In the Democratic effort to find a candidate for the United States Senate in New York State, four persons of serious aspects have presented themselves. Thomas K. Finletter, a liberal, formerly Secretary of the Air Force, is supported by the A.D.A., Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and former Sen. Herbert Lehman. It is not expected that Finletter will be nominated, although Gov. Averell Harriman has been reported as intimating that he is his first choice. This came in one of those interviews which are without quotation marks.

Now arises the spectre of race and religion. There is a strong feeling among the Democrats that it ought to be the turn of an Irish Catholic, the last Democratic senator from New York having been a Jew, Herbert Lehman. And therefore when James A. Farley presented himself for this office, he feeling that he was fit for and worthy of the job, the politicians scurried about to find other fit and worthy Irish Catholics to avoid nominating Farley against whom there are three political arguments:

1. He would probably get more votes than Gov. Harriman which would be unfortunate for Harriman;

2. He left Roosevelt on account of the Third Term issue which the leaders say he should not have done, a Democrat standing by the leadership of his party come what may;

3. Farley is today a citizen of the world and overshadows the local Democratic leaders.

So they concentrated on two other Irish Catholics, both men of high quality, of tested probity, of broad good-will, Thomas E. Murray, formerly a member of the Atomic Energy Commission, and Frank S. Hogan, currently District Attorney of New York County. Harriman prefers Thomas Murray, as a "New York Times" story says, to satisfy the Irish Catholics but as a second choice; Carmine DeSapio, the Tammany leader, prefers Frank Hogan as a first choice.

All of this hardly interests most of the voters who will have two names placed before them and they will have the choice of voting for one or the other. What does interest a great many Americans is the ugliness of the fragmentation of American life to help the politicians in their private business.

They, the politicians, no longer think as Americans. It is impractical. They think of the fragments. They think about how they can manipulate the Negro vote, or the Irish Catholic vote, or the Jewish vote or the Puerto Rican vote or the Italian vote.

This used to be a New York habit, but it is now spreading over the country. Politicians even scheme with Communists for the so-called liberal vote which the Communists know how to manipulate.

This is not good for the United States. It is, in fact, a great evil. It is a symptom of a degeneration of the representative process. For the theory of our nation has been that this is a classless society—"All men are created equal"—but we have since 1933 accelerated the development of classes based on race, prior nationality relationships, color and religion. The menace is that we are not thinking as Americans, but as affiliates of Americans, but as affiliates of Americans.

The vote in Harlem for Adam Clayton Powell, Jr., who will now run on both the Republican and Democratic tickets, was not a vote for Powell; it was a vote for Negro supremacy in Harlem. The Republican leaders of Harlem, when questioned as to why they insisted upon the Republican nomination of Powell who is a Democrat, said, "The indictment of one Negro is the indictment of all Negroes."

Does that mean that because some Italian Mafia members met at Apalachin and they are indicted, all Italians are indicted? That is, of course, nonsense; very dangerous nonsense.

LAFF-A-DAY

"I don't see why they have to plant trees so close to roads."

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A TOUGH OLD mountaineer had been missing for five days, and his wife finally decided to look for him. She found him in a thick clump of bushes, looking rather peaked. "Supper time, paw," she ventured. "Yep," he agreed. "Well, then," she continued, "ain't ye comin' home?" "Nope," said he. "Why not?" said she. "Becuz," he said with finality, "I'm standin' in a bear trap."

A minister, strolling through a crowded neighborhood in Brooklyn, came upon a circle of gesticulating boys, with a puppy in the center. "What are you doing with that dog?" asked the minister. "It's a game of ours," answered one gamin. "We're going to give it to the guy who tells the biggest lie—"

"Outrageous!" cut in the clergyman. "When I was your age, I never told a lie—"

"That's it!" exclaimed the youngster. "Give the gent the dog, 'ellers!"

Constipated? Don't Worry

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Many persons mistakenly believe they are constipated when in reality their bowels are functioning in a perfectly normal manner.

They worry simply because they do not have a bowel movement every day. I'd like to emphasize right now that some normal persons in excellent health have movements only every three or four days.

On the other hand, others who also are normal in every respect have movements as frequently as two or three times a day.

Generally, though, the ideal situation is for the bowels to move regularly either every day or every other day.

Many things may cause constipation.

An organic disease sometimes is suspected if the patient has not been constipated previously and develops increasing difficulty with bowel movements.

Lack of exercise, improper diet, habitual failure to respond to the urge to go to the washroom, and taking too many cathartics may cause loss of power for the bowel to function normally.

If your constipation is due to such faulty habits, your complaints probably consist of lack of appetite and difficult, or infrequent, bowel movements.

Now, what can you do about it? Well, for one thing you probably can get more exercise. Walking is helpful, especially if you lead a sedentary life.

Be sure to go to the washroom the minute you feel the necessity. To help establish regular bowel habits make it a practice to go to the washroom at a certain period every day. The best time, probably, is after a meal, when you have time to relax and aren't in a hurry to do something else.

It is extremely important for you to understand that you do not necessarily need to have a bowel movement every day. Moderately frequent movements will not cause any serious consequences.

Try not to worry about anything. I know this is tough, particularly when business isn't going so well, but nervousness and tension do contribute to constipation troubles.

Be sure that your diet contains enough residue to give the required bulk. Fruits and vegetables generally are bulky and you should eat plenty of them. It might be a good idea to eat one or two kinds of fruit for breakfast, along with cereal and an egg, and then have fruit for dessert for both lunch and dinner.

Liquids are important, too, so drink at least six to eight glasses of water each day.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—Labor reform—and what Congress failed to do about it—is now a full-blown campaign issue in the 1958 congressional elections.

Democrats and Republicans will blame each other for what didn't come to pass. But the fact is neither side looks pretty in this one.

President Eisenhower has already rushed to the defense of his Republicans with a statement Wednesday. This is now it started and ended:

Last January Eisenhower proposed—as a result of disclosures by the Senate Rackets Committee—a 12-point labor reform program.

The Democratic-run Senate on June 17 passed its own bill which fell short of all Eisenhower wanted. It was sponsored by Senators Irving M. Ives (R-NY) and John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.).

Republicans and Democrats teamed up to shove it through 88-11.

This bill sought to throttle racketeering by both unions and employers. It would have required detailed reports on union affairs and funds, along with reports by employers on how much money they spent on labor relations activities.

Further, it would have barred convicted crooks from holding union office, required secret ballot union elections for limited terms, and let union members sue to recover stolen union funds or property. And it would have made management representatives take a non-Communist oath, just as union leaders have to do.

Then the bill went over to the Democratic-run House. There the leader of the House Democrats, Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, bottled it up 41 days by keeping it on his desk. He finally sent it to the House Labor Committee for consideration July 29. Why the delay?

He explained: He didn't want to get it entangled with another piece of labor legislation the Labor Committee was considering.

But the House Labor Committee is run by Democrats. They didn't want any part of the Ives-Kennedy bill. In fact 16 of them, joined by six Republicans, voted against even considering the bill. The committee also voted against considering a Republican-backed substitute.

Finally, the bill was yanked out of the committee's hands and thrown before the full House for action. Under the special procedure used, the bill wouldn't be amended. It also required a two-thirds vote for passage.

But then the Republicans got in their licks. They closed ranks to kill the bill on the floor. A big majority of them, joined by some Democrats, voted to kill the bill. It was killed.

Yet a big majority of Democrats on the floor voted for their bill was a switch for their party since an overwhelming number of Democrats in the Labor Committee had voted against ever letting the bill see the light of day.

Sen. Ives was incensed at what happened in the House. He said he was ashamed of it. But he also said: "A lot of House members were misled by false propaganda by the National Assn. of Manufacturers, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, the American Retail Federation, the Teamsters, and the United Mine Workers. Can you imagine a more unholy alliance?"

Kennedy also struck out at the NAM. That organization's president, Milton C. Lightner, said it was true his organization had opposed the bill but he denied NAM pressure killed it.

So everything was confused but warming up for a who-struck-John fight in the campaign when Eisenhower issued a statement Wednesday. He was highly critical of the Ives-Kennedy bill—although his Senate Republicans had voted overwhelmingly for it. He objected mostly on the grounds it didn't go far enough.

Then he proposed that Congress pass a labor reform bill to his liking before it quits this year. But Congress is only a few days away from quitting, and Eisenhower must know—since everyone else does—no other bill has a chance this year.

Ohio Highways Costing Too Much Money?

Senate Group Studies Road-Building Plans, Has No Sure Answer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republican administration of Ohio Gov. C. William O'Neill is proud of its road-building program. Critics insist it is costing far too much money.

Who is right? Unfortunately, no final answer was developed at a hearing last week by the Senate Roads Subcommittee on program standards of 11 states, including Ohio.

But the subcommittee chairman, Democrat Albert Gore of Tennessee, gave a clue to his own feelings.

Asked by a reporter whether he agrees with those who think Ohio is spending too much money on roads, he replied:

"Frankly, I'm more concerned with those states with standards that are below average than those that are above average."

This does not mean Gore is giving Ohio an "A" on its road program.

He plans to have his subcommittee investigate further into the question of road standards after Congress comes back next year.

Furthermore, during the recent investigation, Gore questioned whether Ohio and some of the more prosperous states might be getting more than their fair share of the billions of dollars in federal highway money.

States like Ohio, he said, can pretty easily put up their 10 per cent of the cost of interstate highways while the federal government supplies 90 per cent.

Other states, he said, find it hard to scrape up the 10 per cent. The result, he said, might be sub-standard roads in hard pressed states and above-standard ones in rich states.

The Ohio road program was vigorously defended by the man who is running it—Charles M. Noble.

The state's highway director took note of many criticisms contained in a study of his department's operations by the General Accounting Office. In every case—save for a 9-million-dollar book-keeping error that created into state records—Noble said GAO remarks were unjustified.

As to whether Ohio's road standards are too high, Noble told the subcommittee:

"It is not believed that the use of these standards resulted in excessive cost nor gave Ohio an advantage over other states."

"Of all past errors, none so haunts highway officials today as the failure to provide adequate rights-of-way for highway growth. Surely, we do not want to make that mistake with the interstate system."

Noble was strongly backed by Federal Highway Administrator Bartram Tallamy — except that Tallamy said he considered Noble's first plans too expensive and had him change them.

One of Noble's principal detractors, Cuyahoga County Engineer Albert S. Porter, a Democrat, attended the hearing but did not testify.

Porter, however, left behind a statement saying that naturally Tallamy would support Noble. Tallamy, he said, recommended Noble for his present job.

Ohio UAW Plans Fund To Fight Ballot Issue

CLEVELAND (AP)—About 200 representatives of Ohio locals in region 2 of the United Auto Workers Union voted Wednesday night to contribute one dollar per member for a campaign against a proposal to ban the union shop in Ohio. An estimated $25,000 would be raised in this manner. The proposal will be on the Nov. 4 ballot as a constitutional amendment.

'Female Brando' Dislikes California Sun, Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"I never thought Hollywood would use me. There's no place out here for a fat girl. . . .

"I can't stand the sunshine in California. It's so relentless. But it's good for you, I guess. Even the old ladies out here look better than I do. . . ."

This was Maureen Stapleton talking, and she was living up to her billing as the female Marlon Brando.

She is like the early Brando—before he became husband, father and film producer. She has a similar disdain for the niceties of attire ("I hate clothes"). She is unimpressed by herself, Hollywood protocol and nearly everything.

Also Brando-like: She is a great performer, universally admired by her fellow actors.

Dore Schary is the man who got her to do a movie. He and director Vincent Donahue sought her to play the important role of an unhappy housewife in "Lonelyhearts" with Montgomery Clift, Robert Ryan and Myrna Loy.

How was she landed? "Vinny called me up and asked me if I wanted to do it," she reported. "I loved the book and I liked the setup so I said yes."

Maureen has been called the American Magnani. She has originated two roles which have befallen Magnani in the movie versions—"The Rose Tattoo" and the forthcoming "Orpheus Descending."

She also did the stage original of "27 Wagons Full of Cotton," which turned up on the screen as "Baby Doll" and made a star of Carroll Baker.

She'll vanish back to her New York haunts and a fall play as soon as "Lonelyhearts" is finished.

Mrs. FDR May Go to Ohio To Fight Anti-Union Shop Ban

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt may go to Ohio to help opponents of the "right to work" campaign—if she is invited.

This was reported today by John Redding, director of the National Council of Industrial Peace. The council is a new organization and has as its first task a drive against "right to work."

Mrs. Roosevelt and former Sen. Hebert Lehman, New York Democrat, are co-chairmen of the council. Redding said it is entirely possible Mrs. Roosevelt and Lehman would speak in Ohio, if asked.

The "right to work" proposal, this fall, would outlaw the union shop, would outlaw the union shop.

That would mean no worker would be required to join a union as a condition of holding his job. At this point, opponents of the Ohio proposal are trying hard to prevent the proposal from being described on the ballot with the phrase "right to work."

This, said Redding, is misleading as to the purposes of the proposal. He said Ohio opponents of the measure are considering going to court, if necessary, to prevent Ohio Secretary of State Ted Brown from using this language on the ballot.

Redding is working closely with both labor and citizen opponents of right-to-work in Ohio. A new citizens organization, he said, is being formed today in Columbus.

"Right to work" backers in Ohio, he said, have a lot more money than those trying to defeat it. He said backers there spent about $250,000 for collecting names but that labor unions can "always see the bottom of the barrel" in their efforts to collect money.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Beef, in a variety of forms, and frying chickens are the feature items in many American supermarkets and neighborhood grocery stores this weekend.

Various stores are offering rib roast, top or bottom round roast, rump roast, chuck steak or roast, rib steak, round steak and assorted other cuts.

The diversity of specials may be because of the high prices and the supermarket meat expert's desire to get some kind of beef into his weekly advertisement.

Fryers and broilers are a familiar item on summer menus, of course. Birds are plentiful now, too.

Another poultry development this week is one chain's offering of turkey parts at prices ranging from 19 cents a pound for necks and backs to 69 cents for breasts.

Fresh fruits and vegetables remain plentiful in most areas, especially where produce comes from nearby orchards and fields.

Cabbage, squash, peppers, sweet corn, beans, cauliflower, celery, potatoes and onions all are rated as very good buys on the vegetable list. Cauliflower and celery dropped noticeably, while sweet potatoes are considerably lower and headed for the bargain list, too.

Peaches and watermelons once again are the best bet by far among fruits. Cantaloupes are reported a bit higher this week, whereas pears are headed the other way. They're still not in the bargain range in most places, however.

NEW YORK (AP) — The world's largest steel-ribbed umbrella will serve as a terminal for Pan American World Airways at New York International Airport.

Thirty-two rib girders will radiate from the center core of the umbrella-like structure, said Thomas R. Mullen, whose Lehigh Structural Steel Company of Allentown, Pa., will fabricate and erect the eight million dollar structure. The roof will be four acres in area.

Mullen said the largest of the girders will be 224 feet long and weigh 75 tons.

Ashville Bond Debt Is Down

Auditor Reports Books in Order

Ashville reduced its bonded debt to $36,700 during a two-year audit period ending April 22. This is pointed out in a state examiner's report released today by State Auditor James A. Rhoades. Paid from the retirement fund to reduce the debt during the two years was $7,600.

The report indicates that village business and finances were managed according to statutes in most instances. The state examiner had some recommendations designed to aid officials in the conduct of their duties.

The following balances existed on April 22: General fund, $7,822.58; street maintenance and repair fund, $1,344.05; state highway improvement fund, $564.88; and water works revenue fund, $18,208.41, and bond retirement fund, $6,531.81.

The clerk's balance of all funds totaled $34,471.73. This was reconciled to the treasurer's balance of $37,408.37 with $2936.64 outstanding in warrants, the examiner said.

THE REPORT notes that the mayor collected $2,105.39 from fines, costs, fees and bonds posted. Water works collections totaled $35,708.91. All was deposited in the village treasury, according to the examiner.

The audit was conducted by the Bureau of Inspection and Supervision of Public Offices under the direction of Auditor Rhoades who is the chief inspector and supervisor.

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — A man recently tried to cash a check at the South End Bank and Trust Co. Teller George Cherlong refused to cash it.

A few minutes later, the man returned and said he had a gun in his pocket. Cherlong, by then, was annoyed. "If you've got a gun," he said, "let me see it or get out."

The man left. Then he came back again and asked to see the vice president. The bank had had enough. Police were called and they charged him with attempted robbery. They said he apparently had been drinking.

Cabbie Tells Of His Spree On Dixie Trip

ORANGE, N. J. (AP)—"It was just one of those things," cab driver John W. Jenkins told police.

"Those things," police said, included a 17-day southern trip with a cab owned by someone else. But there were other things too.

Detectives pieced them together this way:

Jenkins, 25, was waiting for a fare at a corner when he suddenly got an urge to take off somewhere. So he did.

With a total of $39, Jenkins headed the cab south. He picked up two young hitchhikers in Baltimore and shared the driving chores to Miami with them. Then he continued on to Key West.

He sold his firm's $1,800 cab to a sailor at the Florida naval base for $50.

He then hopped a bus to New Orleans, arriving there with $7.

He was intent of having a good time, but he had only two drinks before police picked him up for questioning. He spent eight days in jail because he couldn't pay a $10 fine.

Jenkins hitchhiked his way home after his release and arrived here Monday night. He walked into police headquarters and gave himself up.

He was ordered held without bail on a larceny charge.

ITALIAN FRUIT DRESSING — oil, vinegar and lemon juice with salt and sugar — is poured over a fruit salad plate.

Salads, Light and Right For Hot Weather Meals

Satisfy finicky summer appetites by starring salads on luncheon and supper menus. Light and right for hot weather meals, they have a cool look and a fresh taste that hits the spot.

Create your own combinations. Utilize leftovers. Cold meat or fish is tasty with lettuce, chopped celery or shredded cabbage. Add tomato slices for color, diced onion for flavor.

Round up a medley of raw vegetables — greens, radishes, carrot curls, a cucumber sliced razor-thin, a scallion or two for that sharp flavor, a sprinkling of parsley for garnish.

Cooked vegetables, especially green beans (wonderful served with oil and vinegar) and peas (at their best with creamy dressing) can round out a salad, too.

Don't forget fruit. Pale pear slices and glowing orange sections garnished with shiny black olives makes a combination that's a visual pleasure and a taste treat.

Consider, too, this combination: grapefruit, avocado and shrimp! Delicious!

As with all salads, the success secret is in the dressing. In Italy, a chef guards a dressing recipe as if it were an atomic secret.

Take the Italian Fruit Dressing that tops off the pear and orange plate. Ingredients are standard — rich olive oil, tart Chianti wine vinegar, lemon juice. It's the proportions and the addition of a dash of salt, a tablespoon of sugar that make the difference.

Consider, too, the intriguing combination that makes Roman Dressing to serve over grapefruit.

avocado-shrimp salad. You expect wine vinegar, salt and pepper in dressing, but this one features flavorful additions — catsup, chili sauce, horseradish, Tabasco, Worcestershire!

Serve a salad, top it off with delicious dressing and you can rate culinary honors without stepping near the stove.

Italian Fruit Salad
Peel 3 fresh pears, cut in eighths and core. Peel 3 oranges, cut in horizontal slices. Cut 3 pitted black olives in half.

Place orange slices on lettuce leaves; arrange sections of pear around oranges and place black olive in center of orange.

Serve to 6 with Italian Fruit Dressing: In glass jar combine two-thirds c. Italian olive-oil, one-third c. Chianti wine vinegar, 1 tsp. lemon juice, 1 tsp. sugar and 1 tsp. salt; cover and shake thoroughly.

Bella Salada
Peel and section 3 grapefruit. Cut 2 avocados in half lengthwise, twist to separate halves. Remove the big seed, then peel and slice in lengthwise strips.

Add to grapefruit, being sure to sprinkle grapefruit juice over avocado to prevent discoloration.

When ready to serve, drain grapefruit and avocado. Add 1 dozen or more fresh shrimp, which have been cooked, shelled and cleaned. Arrange each helping on crisp lettuce leaves on salad plate.

Serve with Roman Dressing: Combine ¼ c. catsup, ¼ c. chili sauce, 2 tsp. horseradish, dash of Tabasco, 1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce, 3 tsp. Chianti wine vine-

Ideal Figure Is Not Fat But Pleasingly Rounded

Americans have the thinnest standard of beauty in the world. The boyish figure is the one that rates raves on our home ground. High fashion models set the pace. Slim — hipless, hollow — cheeked, they're the ideal we all secretly strive to achieve, but not too many of us make it! In Europe, the ideal beauty is built along far more generous lines.

If you've always been plump and self-conscious about it, a vacation in Athens, for example, will do wonders for your morale. The ladies there quite obviously have hips and bosoms. They're not fat, mind you, but they are pleasingly padded. Rome, too, is a city of rounded beauties.

Paris is more like the U.S.A. but that's in keeping with the styles France exports to the world. So many of them — especially current ones — are designed for hipless, bosomless, pin-thin women. Many French fashions seem designed by nature for such clothes. Perhaps that explains them. Certainly, they're not for the average American and they don't do a thing for Italian or Greek women, either.

Overweight isn't in fashion anywhere, but plumpness is and it can be pretty.

Don't diet to a painfully thin form. It may be fashionable, but it's not fetching. Keep your rounded lines, but keep them in check. Don't let them develop into fat — and this can happen all too easily. Exercise to firm muscles. Keep an eye on diet. Be conscious of weight. When you gain a pound — and a daily check on the scale can keep you posted — shed it pronto.

CURVES, providing they're not too full, give pleasing roundness to the figure.

No woman has to apologize for curves — unless they get out of control. The ideal beauty is not too thin, not too fat, but just right. In our book that means her figure is softly feminine and attractively rounded.

Summer Dance Set for Saturday

The Circleville Elks Lodge will stage its annual summer dance Saturday evening in the Pickaway Fairgrounds Coliseum.

Ross Spalding, chairman of the lodge entertainment committee, said the coliseum had been reserved since previous quarters had proven too small to accommodate the large turnout. Both the lodge home and the Pickaway Country Club have been utilized in past years.

Dick Welch and his orchestra have been retained for the Saturday night affair which will be open to Elks, their ladies and out-of-county guests.

Hewitt Harmount will direct ticket sales for the dance.

The picnic will also be held in honor of the new pledges. The new pledges are Mrs. John Roll, Miss Agnes Jester and Miss Marilyn Francis.

Each member is to bring her own table service.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am a girl 16 and I have a problem. I'll be a junior in high school next year. Since I was in the seventh grade I have gone with — among other boys — a boy who is two years older.

Now, for the past six weeks we have been going together more or less steadily. I'll admit we've had quite a nice time — swimming, riding, picnicking, dancing, skating, downtown movies, all day excursions.

I couldn't ask for a better time, except that Jim wants us to get married, and I don't want to.

He has a very nice job and we wouldn't be hard up financially. He is a very nice person, we have common interests, my friends are his, my family approves of him. I like his family and we get along well most of the time. But sometimes he makes me sick; I can't say exactly why, but he just does.

He showers me with gifts, compliments and attention. He is quite the gentleman and I hardly ever (twice in four years) have a trouble handling him. He makes no bones about being in love with me, as he has told both my parents that he plans to marry me.

Just recently I told him not to come around any more. And he asked me to play for a sucker or anything, just not to stop dating him. He has quit coming over, after my insistence; but he calls, drives by, sends friends over and makes a regular nuisance of himself. I like him and enjoy his company but don't think I love him. Please am I doing the right thing? Or should I go with him and let things drift?

D.S.

DEAR D. S.: Yes, you are doing the proper thing, in refusing to drift into a routine of least resistance, with a boy who wants to marry you, when you don't really care for him.

In making this decision and sticking to it, you are showing oneself available pleasures, in order to keep oneself fit, as it were, for a greater good that one hopes to attain, in due season.

Jim is a clever salesman, obviously.

As of now, he isn't fully discouraged. He still intends to overcome your disinclination to marry him.

And he aims to do this by conditioning you to accept the fate he has decreed for you (figuratively speaking). Hence his campaign of pounding away at your resistance — letting all and sundry know that he has earmarked you as "his."

It is wise of you to be cool-headed and inflexible in calling a halt on that. The fact that he sometimes makes you sick, for reasons you can't define, signifies that he's not right for you. From which it follows that marriage to him would cloud and confuse your personality, throwing you off the track of your appropriate development. So break it off now, and give him clearly to understand that his audacious selling is wasted effort.

Probably Jim is just in a mood for love; and if you won't have him, I daresay he will make a quick recovery — in the sense of pitching his heart in other directions, fairly soon.

M.H.

Synthetic "Bearskins" Practical and Pretty

BY ELEANOR ROSS

Looking at some snapshots in an old family album set us to wondering whatever happened to the bearakin rug. Remember that fuzzy rug and how it used to serve as the standard prop for the tummy-down pictures of each new baby in the family? No photographer could be in business without one!

But that was a long time ago. Today if you want to take a picture of Baby in the traditional pose, you'll find a wonderful substitute for the bearskin rug, one that's as washable as Baby himself. It's the ultra-soft scatter rug which features high-pile plush made of acrylic fibers. These rugs come in several sizes and a rainbow of colors.

Because synthetic bearskin can be put into a washing machine, it has many obvious advantages over the genuine kind.

For one thing, apart from using it to pose for pictures, Baby can wriggle on it with complete safety and without worry about, to put it delicately, an "accident."

A baby accident just means it's time to give the rug a quick laundering!

By keeping this special rug fresh and clean, you needn't worry about danger to Baby's health, either.

These rugs can be used by other members of the family, too. Grownups will enjoy pampering their feet on the fluffy pile. In fact, neither adults nor growing youngsters will grumble when they step out of bed, or out of an early-morning shower, onto one of these long-haired, luxurious beauties.

Whether you use them in the

It's not that there's a shortage at the White House. The man who lived there before put in a 1,000-piece set.

Going over and regrouping the collection in the White House china room, Mrs. Eisenhower and her staff discovered five missing eras: Andrew Johnson, William Howard Taft, Warren G. Harding, Calvin Coolidge and Herbert Hoover.

So Mrs. Eisenhower is searching for pieces they owned privately to fill in the collection.

Annual School Bus Check Starts September 15 Here

A schedule for the annual school bus inspection in Pickaway County has been set up by County School Superintendent George McDowell and State Highway Patrolman Gene Miller.

Patrolman Miller, who has conducted the bus inspection here for several years, urged all drivers to follow the schedule closely. Buses will be checked at central points as listed, he added.

Here is the schedule:

September 15 — Circleville city and Pickaway Twp., 9 a. m. at the fairgrounds; Washington Twp., 1 p. m. at Washington; Wayne Twp., 1:30 p. m. at the fairgrounds.

September 16 — Scioto Twp., 9 a. m. at Scioto; Darby and Muhlenberg Twp., 1 p. m. at Darby.

September 17 — Deercreek and Perry Twp., 9 a. m. at Williamsport; Monroe Twp., 1 p. m. at Monroe.

September 18—Madison and Harrison Twp., 9 a. m. at Ashville; Walnut Twp., 1 p. m. at Walnut.

September 19—Jackson Twp., 9

a. m. at Jackson; Salicreek Twp., 1 p. m. at Salicreek.

Miller said the regular driver of each bus must be present at the time of inspection. He also requested that substitute drivers be present, if possible.

PATROLMAN Miller recently attended a special training session dealing with school bus inspections.

Working in cooperation with the State Department of Education, approximately 75 patrolmen were trained to inspect for safety the more than 8,000 buses in the state which daily travel more than 300,000 miles, carrying some 600,000 students to and from school.

Of the 8,023 buses inspected last year, 192 were found unserviceable and were ordered removed from service until the corrections were made and the bus reexamined. Minor corrections were ordered in 3,953 others. All corrections ordered must be made within 15 days following the inspections.

In the 531 school bus accidents investigated by the State Highway Patrol last year, two children were injured fatally when struck down before or after leaving the bus. Injuries as a result of the 531 accidents numbered 105. The bulk of the accidents, 424, resulted in only property damage. Motorists striking the rear of a stopped school bus accounted for 107 of the mishaps.

While it is important that the buses be in good mechanical condition, Patrolman Miller pointed out that the inspections also invariably uncover a few drivers who are not considered fully competent to be entrusted with a bus load of children. He said these are being weeded out by a special test that is now conducted for all drivers, who must successfully pass the examination to retain their school bus operator's license.

Through the Patrol's inspection program, all of the state's 8,000 some buses will have been inspected within the first six weeks of the new school year.

COLONEL Fred Moritz, patrol superintendent, said it is the aim of the Patrol and the Department of Education to make Ohio's school bus transportation system the safest in the nation. To do this, he said, requires the help and the full cooperation of the school officials, bus drivers, and last, but certainly not least, the motoring public.

With the approach of the new school year, he called upon the state's drivers to strictly obey the school bus law and to be especially alert when near a bus that is stopping to take on or discharge school children. "They are a precious cargo," he said, "and it is everyone's responsibility to help protect them."

Ike Signs Extension on Trade Law

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has signed legislation giving the reciprocal trade program four more years of life. It is the longest extension ever granted by Congress.

The administration had requested a five-year extension, but Eisenhower made it clear in signing the bill Wednesday that he was quite happy with what Congress provided.

Eisenhower said, the free nations, "are now assured of a continuity in United States trade policy that will make possible new international negotiations to promote mutually advantageous commercial exchange and increased world productivity."

The four-year extension of the 24-year-old program is expected to give the government sufficient power to deal with future trade problems arising from the new European Common Market.

This is a union of France, Italy, West Germany and the Benelux countries in a common market embracing some 160 million consumers.

Besides giving authority for the program to operate through June 30, 1962, the legislation provides additional powers to cut tariffs 20 per cent in return for like concessions from other nations.

The law also will now permit Congress, by a two-thirds vote of both House and Senate, to sustain recommendations of the Tariff Commission for higher duties or import quotas, even though the President may disagree.

12 Million To Get Relief From Inflation

$1 Billion a Year More To Be Paid to Social Security List

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Some 12 million of inflation's worst victims are in line today for a little relief.

If President Eisenhower signs the social security bill into law, Uncle Sam will hand out about one billion dollars more next year to 12 million beneficiaries.

He will collect a little more than one billion dollars additional through higher taxes. Half the increase will be paid by the 75 million whose pay checks are docked for social security taxes, and the other half by their employers.

The increased benefits are designed to make up for some of the ravages of past inflation on the fixed incomes of the retired.

If new inflation pops up, as many in Washington fear, the battle will start all over again.

The big rise in the cost of living since the war has cramped persons beyond their earning years. They have found the nest egg they once thought ostrich size has shrunk to pigeon size.

The new benefits and the new taxes will still leave the social security system running in the red, as it started to do for the first time in the past year.

This year it is paying out nearly 8½ billion dollars in benefits and it is taking in 7½ billion dollars in taxes on the employed and their employers. Next year under the new bill payments would rise to 9½ billion and collections to a bit more than 8 billion.

The system has a large reserve fund on which to draw. But taxes will have to go up steadily from year to year if the higher payments are to be made and the reserve saved from too much drainage. Sponsors of the new bill say it should bring the social security fund into balance within a few more years as the tax rates rise.

Many elderly persons have other forms of income. There has been a rapid growth

CAB Sees Need for Controls Up to 35,000 Feet Altitude

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board says air traffic control regulations must be extended up to 35,000 feet and encompass additional American routes.

At present, such control applies only to certain transcontinental routes between 17,000 and 22,000 feet.

The CAB's recommendation was contained in a report on the collision of a United Air Lines DC7 and a jet fighter last April 21 near Las Vegas, Nev. Forty-nine persons were killed.

The report said the Air Force and the Civil Aeronautics Administration must share part of the blame for the collision, which occurred at 21,000 feet. The CAB said the accident was probably caused by the high speed of the planes and the lack of an adequate view from the pilots' cockpits.

The CAA was criticized for poor judgment in not taking steps to reduce the chances of collision in the area where a number of near misses had been reported.

The Air Force was accused of giving insufficient attention to segregating military training flights at Nellis Air Force Base from other traffic on an established airway.

The CAB said the increase in speed and traffic density made it harder to give pilots sufficient opportunity to spot each other during flights.

Therefore, the report said, "it is essential that positive control be extended to altitudes as high as 35,000 feet and on additional routes as rapidly as practical."

The report added, however, that visual flight rules should not be discarded entirely.

Timken Offers Steel Union Pension Deal

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—The United Steelworkers Union today studied a new company offer to end a 30-day strike over a pension plan at Timken Roller Bearing Co.

Some 9,000 workers at plants here and in Columbus and Zanesville walked off their jobs July 23. Several incidents of violence involving strikers and non-strikers have resulted in police charges and minor injuries.

Another negotiating session between company and union is planned this afternoon.

The union wants the more experienced worker to be guaranteed a payment, such as a lump sum, if he gets laid off and has no prospect of qualifying for a pension. This is called a worker's vested interest in the pension program.

The latest company offer, made Wednesday, provides a vested interest. If an employee is laid off for a two-year period, the lay-off is considered permanent and he would receive a lump sum payment. For instance, a 40-year-old employee with 15 years service would receive a payment of $1,911.

County Employee Vacation Rule Told

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Attorney General ruled today that a county employee with an aggregate of 15 years of service is entitled to three weeks of annual vacation leave regardless of whether that service was continuous or intermittent.

Atty. Gen. Saxbe said Ohio law also allows a 15-year employee up to six weeks off in any one year against unused leave accumulated during his time of service, subject to the discretion of his department head.

Fulton County Prosecutor John H. Barber asked for the opinion.

Neighbor's Mower Blade Kills Man

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Thomas Tabor, 64, died today after being struck in the chest by a neighbor's lawnmower blade while mowing his lawn. Suddenly his power mower threw its blade which sailed across the street and sank into Tabor's back. He died of a punctured lung.

White House Reports Big Jump in Economy

WASHINGTON (AP)—A White House report says the nation's economy took a bigger than expected turn for the better during the second quarter of this year. President Eisenhower's economic advisers said the chief reason was a further rise in personal and government spending.

More than half a million acres in New Mexico have been preserved as Wilderness Areas to protect wildlife and vegetation. These areas may be reached only on foot or horseback.

Students Eye Their Own Competence

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP)—Student leaders from 200 American colleges and universities got down to serious work here today. In effect, they are inquiring into their own willingness and competence to face the challenge of today's complex world.

About 1,000 students are here for the National Student Congress on the campus of Ohio Wesleyan University. For 10 days, they'll take part in scores of workshops and conferences to talk of this year's theme, "Student responsibility in an age of challenge."

Much of what goes on will be self critical, and part of it will be to analyze a challenge put to students Wednesday by Dr. Samuel D. Marble, president of Wilmington (Ohio) College.

In his keynote address, Dr. Marble questioned the ability of America's students to shoulder their share of today's burdens.

He said the 10 years after World War II was a decade of smugness and self satisfaction. But he told the group that "now we are awakening from a deep sleep, from dreams of grandeur, comfort and sex. This reawakening is not wholly pleasant."

"In this new viewpoint, we have also changed our appraisal of you (the students) . . . We are not quite as convinced as we were 10 years ago that you have the finest education it is possible for any young person to acquire."

"We are not quite as convinced of your abilities nor of your ultimate maturity. We are a little uncertain of your willingness to do the hard work necessary to meet the challenges of today . . ."

Union Chiefs Gloomy about U.S. Economy

FOREST PARK, Pa. (AP) — AFL-CIO leaders said today there may be prosperity again on Wall Street but for unemployed millions the recession remains a stark reality.

The labor union chiefs took a gloomy view of the nation's economic outlook particularly because of what they said is a return by President Eisenhower's administration to a tight money policy.

Statements approved by the AFL-CIO leaders criticized a recent Federal Reserve Board action pointing toward higher interest rates. They said increased interest rates may plunge the economy into a sharp new decline. Council, meeting here, predicted continuing heavy unemployment for the next 12 to 18 months. Unemployment totaled 5,300,000 in July, or 7.3 per cent of the labor force.

"The unemployed cannot live on graphs of slowly rising output that make Wall Street investors happy," the AFL-CIO leaders said.

The Council Wednesday ordered the International Union of Operating Engineers, target of Senate Rackets Committee corruption charges, to carry out reforms in its Newark, Philadelphia, Chicago and Long Island, N. Y., locals.

The union also was ordered to seek recovery of allegedly misappropriated union funds from its former president, William E. Maloney.

Ike Vetoes Bill To Hike Tariff on Some Seed Wheat

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has vetoed a bill which would have increased the tariff on certain seed wheat.

In rejecting the measure, Eisenhower said it would violate an agreement with Canada.

He also called the bill "inimical to the trade policy of the United States, the interests of our farmers, and our relations with Canada."

The bill would have hiked the duty on seed wheat treated with poisonous substances which serve to prevent wheat diseases and discourage insect damage to crops.

Virtually all such seed wheat entering the United States comes from Canada.

The current duty is 5 per cent of the value or about 10 cents a bushel at current prices, as compared with 21 cents a bushel on all other imported wheat.

The bill Eisenhower vetoed would have made treated wheat seed subject to the higher tariff.

Ex-Ship's Captain Sleeps Easily Now

CLIFTON, N. J. (AP) — Jan Cwiklinski has no regrets. Ten years ago he was captain of the Polish transatlantic liner Batory.

Today he works 16 hours a day in a roadside ice cream stand. "I need a piece of bread," he says, "so I sell ice cream to get it. In Poland, when there is a knock on the door, you don't know if it is the milkman with the milk or the security police come to take you to jail. Here I am a free man, I work hard, but I sleep."

Nine years ago, when the Batory was docked in New York, Gerhart Eisler, reportedly America's top Communist, came aboard as a sightseer and stowed away in the laundry.

Eisler was free on bail after his conviction on perjury charges in connection with a passport declaration.

When Eisler presented himself at sea, the captain knew there would be trouble. He radioed New York and Warsaw as well as the ship's destination, London, informing authorities Eisler was aboard.

The United States wanted Eisler returned, Poland wanted him brought safely to Communist ter-

Ohio Jobless Total Drop by Another 3,000 in Week

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The total of jobless Ohioans collecting both regular and special unemployment benefits dropped by another 3,000 last week.

The new over-all total as of last Saturday was 201,584, the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation reported. Regular benefits went to 145,438. Special benefits were paid to 56,146 persons who have exhausted their regular benefits.

The Legislature less than two months ago authorized temporary 13-week benefits for those who had exhausted their regular benefits and still were out of work.

The number of those receiving regular benefits last week was 6,252 below the previous week, but benefit exhaustion was responsible for 5,147 of the drop. That means a net reduction in unemployment of 1,105.

During the week, 16,744 new applications were filed for regular benefits and 5,318 for special benefits.

Ohio Fairs Fund Balance Is Set Now at $413,555

COLUMBUS, Ohio — State Treasurer Roger W. Tracy has reported a balance of $413,555 in the Ohio fairs fund.

The fund, authorized by the 1957 Legislature, is under attack in Franklin County courts by race-track interests.

The Legislature provided for a tax of one-half of one per cent on racetrack wagers to create the fund. Proceeds are used to help finance state, county and independent fairs.

First distribution from the fund last April totaled $453,540.

Statute provides for the Ohio State Fair to receive $60,000 from the fund as purse money for owners of Ohio horses participating in harness races. Other distributions include $2,500 to each county and independent fair, $2,500 for all fairs conducting horse or colt races and another $2,000 each as purse money for harness races held for Ohio-owned horses.

Boy Going To School Despite Killing

CARROLLTON, Ohio (AP) — Orlo J. Beckley, 17, is free to proceed with his senior year at Conotton Valley High School next month. Until Wednesday he was held in jail, charged with murder in a fatal shooting that already had been ruled accidental by the coroner.

He was released because Juvenile Judge William T. Allmon dismissed charges filed by Mrs. Thelma Lloyd of Leesville. She signed an affidavit last week declaring the boy shot her daughter last July 15 "with premeditated malice."

However, Coroner Clarence J. Deckman had ruled 14-year-old Thelma Sue Lloyd's death was accidental. Beckley's rifle was discharged as he and two companions were target shooting near the Lloyd home.

Judge Allmon, after hearing several witnesses in a closed hearing, said there was not sufficient evidence to warrant consideration by a court or jury.

Museum Window Traps Many Birds

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Birds are dying to get into Dayton's new natural history museum.

E. J. Koestner, director, said some two dozen robins, flickers, waxwings and catbirds have come to an untimely end against the museum's big picture window this summer.

"The window shows reflections of trees and to a bird it looks like the wide open spaces, I suppose," Koestner theorizes.

The window's victims will end up inside the museum after all. "Our bird collection is very small," said Koestner, "so we're freezing them and eventually they will be mounted and added to the display."

Wash and Wear— Is It Really?

By MRS. LEORA SAYRE
County Home Economics Agent

There are many trends, labels, and reasons connected with all channels of economics in the home.

Why did that cotton garment turn yellow when a bleach was used? It is quite possible that the fabric was treated for crease or wrinkle recovery.

For this treatment, different types of resins are used but they all retain chlorine to some degree. This retained chlorine increases with repeated treatment of a chlorine bleach. If one belongs to the "must-bleach" club, they should check labels or ask, to find if the fabric is non-chlorine retentive.

The title "wash and wear" is not new! For many years, home-makers have been laundering many items which have been worn without ironing — socks, flannels, t-shirts, etc. Wash and wear means that garments are adaptable to automatic home laundering and drying procedures and require little or no ironing to look their best.

According to recognized standards, the wash and wear fabrics include those made of 100 per cent cotton or rayon with a highly durable finish, and those with a high percentage of synthetic fibers. To be classed as wash and wear, the synthetic fibers such as Dacron, Orlon, Acrilan and Nylon, must give built-in performance. This means that after laundering and drying the garment must retain its original shape and the pleats and creases that were put in when it was made.

DRIP DRYING, once considered part of the wash and wear technique, is fast disappearing. Drip drying is messy, inconvenient, and takes much longer than machine drying. More important, many garments that are drip dried require ironing to make them presentable. Therefore, drip drying cancels the big advantage of wash and wear.

Cotton, the ever popular and practical fiber has added a lot of dignity in title. Now the word cotton is preceded by a descriptive word such as—pampered, regulated.

Visits Planned By Officials Of Soil Bank

In order to check compliance with the Soil Bank contract, containing visits will be made to farms where farmers have put land in the Soil Bank programs, according to Luther J. List, chairman, County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

He advises them to keep a close watch on the land they have in the Soil Bank and make sure that compliance with all terms of their contracts is complete.

List explains that the visits will be made to determine whether farmers are cropping or grazing any of the land placed in the Soil Bank programs. Checks also will be made to insure that proper cover crop and other Soil Bank practices are being carried out in accordance with the terms of the agreement or contract.

Since the acreage reserve agreements run until Dec. 31, 1958, inspections under that program will be made up to that time. The fact that the farmer has already received his acreage reserve payment does not relieve him of his obligation to comply with the terms of his 1958 agreement until it expires.

INSPECTIONS of the conservation reserve land will be continuing throughout the life of the individual Conservation Reserve contract covering the farm—from three to 10 years.

The chairman points out that these inspections should not be confused with the earlier reviews made to determine whether the acreage designed was taken out of production, whether the farmer planted within his permitted acreage of Soil Bank base crops, or whether he stayed within his allotments.

In fact, he said, the continuing inspections will not be started until the basic checks have been completed. Then random checks will be made throughout the county on a continuing basis.

Visits also will be made by the county ASC office to any farms where someone reports a possible violation, or where the community committees recommend a check.

Arsonist Blamed In Newark Fires

NEWARK, Ohio (AP) — Arson has been blamed for a third mysterious fire at the W. W. Reynolds orchard farm southwest of Utica. The third fire, in a cardboard barrel in a barn, was discovered and doused before it could spread. Two other fires causing nearly $90,000 damage destroyed barns on the farm Aug. 6 and 16.

Sheriff William McElroy said it was obvious the fire had been set intentionally. The earlier fires are still under investigation.

ed, disciplined, sculptured, embossed, painted, wrinkle resistant and such.

There are two general types of vacuum cleaners — tank and upright. A comparison of dirt removed from carpet by upright and tank cleaners was the subject of a study by a vacuum cleaner manufacturer.

The amount of dirt removed on the first forward stroke was the greatest. On this first stroke, the upright cleaner removed 20.2 grams while the tank removed only 8.5 grams. The total amount of dirt removed in the controlled study by the upright cleaner was 46.50 grams while the amount removed by the tank type was 27.56.

The selection of floor covering material can be as varied as for cotton fabric. Recently the Texas Experiment Station completed a year test study on common floor material.

The tests were made on six floor covering materials: sheet vinyl, rubber, asphalt, vinyl-asbestos tile, linoleum and cork.

The objective was to find wearing ability and appearance following wear. Asphalt tile showed significantly more wear than the other materials tested. Waxing may be desirable on any material to maintain the appearance with exception of rubber tile. Dark colors in rubber tiles made the least change in appearance.

As for hard surface floor coverings, the introduction of rotogravure vinyls is the biggest current news. This is a counterpart of base linoleum but it is said to wear longer. It comes in roll goods as wide as 12 feet. It is used in the same way as the felt base linoleum, not pasted to the under floor.

The designs for these rotogravure vinyls are photographed, making almost any design possible. The design is then printed on vinyl coated backing and covered with a transparent layer of vinyl.

WHEN IT COMES to nutrition science, words such as calcium, riboflavin, and niacin do not adequately impress the majority of people—both high and low income. Calcium and ascorbic acid seem the most neglected. Occasionally everyone should ask this question: How am I doing nutritionally?

Just now nutrition can be given a colorful boost by including currently plentiful and economical corn and tomatoes.

Today's sweet corn has come a long way from the maize which was grown by prehistoric Indians in Peru. Through scientific breeding and improved processing, we have today sweet corn that is a flavor tempting and vitamin B and iron treat enjoyed by millions of Americans.

Fresh corn on the cob is an American favorite, but also popular are the canned and frozen forms. To be at its best, sweet corn must be sweet. This quality depends upon the amount of sugar in the kernels. Sugar content is highest in fresh picked corn. Within a matter of hours after picking, the sugar begins to turn to starch and the longer it goes the lower the sugar content becomes.

From a garden ornament, tomatoes have come to be one of America's most popular and versatile vegetables. By cultivation and use, the tomato is a vegetable; botanically, it is a fruit; and among fruits it is a berry, being pulpy and containing one or more seeds that are not stones. Whether fruit, berry, or vegetable, the tomato provides for the diet a high amount of vitamins A and C.

Vote on Corn Is Expected By Dec. 15

WASHINGTON (AP)—Corn and cotton growers will face the problem of choosing within the next few months the government program under which they will operate if the farm bill passed by Congress becomes law.

Agriculture Department officials expect President Eisenhower to sign the bill. One official described it as the "biggest step toward freeing agriculture in 30 years."

For corn growers, the legislation would require a referendum in commercial producing areas on or before Dec. 15. Department officials were said to be planning the vote for early December.

In this referendum corn growers would vote for the first time on whether they want to abolish all acreage allotments and base price supports on average prices, or retain the present program.

They would have a choice of: 1. No acreage allotments and a price support based on 90 per cent of the average price for a three-year period, but not less than 65 per cent of parity, or—

2. A program with allotments and a price support of 75 to 90 per cent of parity. The exact figure would be set by the secretary of agriculture.

Parity is a legal standard deemed fair to farmers in relation to their costs.

The program chosen in such a referendum would apply to all corn growers.

Man with all his wisdom and knowledge may not be able to detect visually the difference between grasses grown on soils of low and high fertility but the cow will choose every time the grass grown on fertile soil. ## Will Grain Dryer Pay Off on Farm?

Farmers are raising the question, "Must I add another piece of equipment to my expanding investment?" The coming of pickers, shellers, high moisture corn, and the possibility of harvesting wheat at a little higher moisture content are all bringing this question into focus. Some few farmers have already bought dryers and some have tried them out with varying results.

Of course, ear corn placed in narrow storage, with the sides exposed to the air, provides a cheap and efficient way to dry ear corn. In Ohio it will dry in this manner 8 or 9 years out of 10.

Heat drying may likely be necessary if harvesting corn with a picker-sheller and in years when wheat is harvested with a high moisture content. These crops may be dried with artificial heat at the elevator or on the farm.

Before a farmer decides to invest some $3,000 to $6,000 he should ask himself some pointed questions. For example, "If I spend $5,000 for an artificial heat dryer, will I have to give up some other investment? In other words, if my capital will not go around, is this the most profitable place I can invest $5,000? Will I use a dryer every year or just in wet years? Will I use a dryer on more than one crop? Will I sell my grain after it is dried or will I keep it for feeding? Am I the kind of person who is willing to do work of a scientific nature? Am I willing to follow the drying details so that the starch and protein will not be damaged by the heat?"

Pickaway Contingent Plans To Attend Swine Day Meet

Plans for Swine Day Sept. 5 at the Ohio Agriculture Experiment Station have been completed, according to Director L. L. Rummell.

This year the program features tours of research work at the W. L. Robison Swine Research Center in the morning and panel discussions intermingled with question-and-answer periods in the afternoon.

Experiments to be discussed involve the use of feed additives for pigs on deep litter and on concrete, different levels of phosphorus for pigs in dry lot and the influence of a low level of stilbestrol on barrow performance. Stilbestrol has been widely used in the cattle industry but in hogs the hormone has had a limited use.

Other researchers will discuss pelleted feeds, feed additives for pigs on pasture, and hygromycin and piperazine phosphate for worming pigs.

Current Ohio research has shown that sexes of swine differ in carcass characteristic. Findings from this study will be reported.

Bob Owens, Jeffersonville Duroc breeder and chairman of the Research and Education Committee of the Ohio Swine Council, will preside at the afternoon program. The panels will be on multiple farrowing and transmissible gastroenteritis, a serious virus disease of hogs.

WOMEN ATTENDING Swine Day will be taken on a tour of the flower gardens and Secret Arboretum, an 80-acre wooded beauty spot at the experiment station.

Swine Day will begin at 10 a. m. (EST). Visitors can reach the swine research center by driving six miles east of Wooster on Route 30, then turning right on Wayne County Road 44. It also can be reached by turning left off of Route 250 onto Road 44.

Pickaway County swine producers desiring to attend swine day program with the Pickaway County group should contact George Hamrick, County Extension Agent, Agriculture.

Elks Nine Downs Stoutsville, 4-0

Elks moved into the finals of the Little League playoffs last night by shutting out Stoutsville, 4-0, in a nerve-rattling, thrilling and excitement-filled baseball game under the lights at Ted Lewis Park.

The never-say-die Indians from Stoutsville almost pulled the game out in the bottom half of the last inning when they loaded the bases. The first man in the batting order faced winning hurler Tommy Copeland and with the count 3-2, struck out.

Copeland started in place of regular Elks hurler Dave Hannahs and went all the way for the victory. In the six inning tussle, Copeland struck out 14 and walked but one man. The young curve ball artist had Stoutsville swinging at

TCU and SMU Top Southwest

Both Squads Heavy With Lettermen

DALLAS (AP)—Southwest Conference football coaches say you can't gauge the strength of their teams by the number of lettermen. It seems there's little required these days to make a letter except just stay on the squad.

However, the experts picked the schools with the most lettermen to fight it out for the 1958 championship — Texas Christian and Southern Methodist.

Texas Christian on some occasions last year had the best team in the conference. Ohio State, the nationally ranked power, could attest to that because the Horned Frogs handed it an 18-14 defeat.

TCU comes up with a better team, to quote its own coach, Abe Martin. It was 20 lettermen and the best balanced offense in years. A thunderous ground attack will be led by halfback Marvin Lasater, who rolled up 488 yards last season, and Hunter Enis bids to give the Frogs a fine passing attack.

Southern Methodist also has 20 lettermen, including talented passer Don Meredith; the nation's top punter, Dave Sherer, and some of its most promising sophomores.

The Methodists start off with Ohio State and Notre Dame, then plunge into the Southwest Conference race against the defending champion, Rice.

Texas has been mentioned in some quarters as the team that should be favored but the Longhorns won't have the experience of last season.

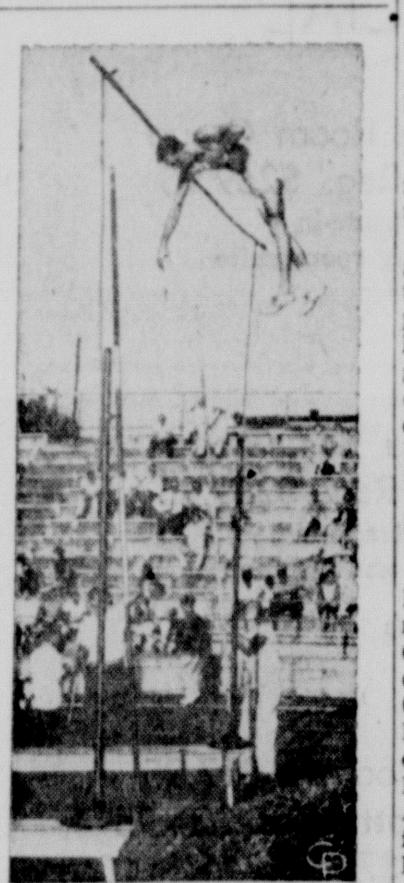

Rice claims it's rebuilding although the Owls still having great wingman Buddy Dial and ace fullback Ray Chilton.

Texas A & M has a lot of new faces and a new coach, Jim Myers. The Aggies will be the only single-wing team in the conference. Arkansas and Baylor are low in veteran material.

Flaming Arrow Wins Missouri Fair Pace

SEDALIA, MO. (AP)—Flaming Arrow, driven by McKinley Kirk for owner William Vallery of Waverly, Ohio, posted the fastest mile of the day—2:02—in winning the first heat of the Big Five pace in the Missouri Fair's harness program Wednesday. Flaming Arrow was second to Frisco Creed in the second heat but easily outdistanced his rival in the raceoff.

In three years as baseball coach at St. John's of Brooklyn, Jack Kaiser has led his team to 70 victories and only 19 defeats. During that period the team has finished three times as runner-up in the Metropolitan College Baseball Conference.

BENCHED—Regulation standards weren't enough for Bob Gutowski, the world's record holder in the pole vault, at the recent Oregon A.A.U. meet at Portland. So the officials put the pole vault standards on benches and Bob got up to 13'3" to win his favorite event.

straws for the first four innings as he retired the side in order.

Wendell Lovett, the losing pitcher, poked a single in the fifth inning, for Stoutsville's first hit off Copeland and went to third on a throwing error. Lovett remained there as the next two men up struck out and then he attempted to steal home and was thrown out at the plate.

ALL ELKS' runs were unearned. Their first two runs came as a result of four straight walks and a steal of home by Junior Tootle in the first inning. The Elks came back in the second stanza and scored a run on two walks and a hit. Their final run came in the fifth on Tootle's second theft of home.

Lovett held the Elks to two hits, but wildness and passed balls cost him the victory. Stoutsville out-hit the Elks, getting three bingles off Copeland, two in the final inning.

The finals of the playoffs will be held at 8 p. m. Monday on the softball diamond. The Elks will meet the winner of the Ford Furniture vs. New Car Dealers game, which will be held at 8 p. m. tonight on the softball diamond.

Halas Expects Hot Grid Campaign

CHICAGO (AP)—Owner-coach George Halas, sizing up his Chicago Bears as 20 per cent better than last year, is looking for another toss-up battle in the Western Division of the National Football League.

The 63-year-old Halas, who came out of retirement to take another crack at coaching his Chicago Bears, believes Green Bay will be the most improved team in the league.

"The Los Angeles Rams are also improved and Baltimore expects to win the title," said Halas. "Detroit, of course, is the champion and San Francisco tied Detroit only to lose in the playoff. We'll be 20 per cent better so it should be a toss-up as to who'll win the title."

Cleveland Indian Chief Moans as Fans Decline

CLEVELAND (AP)—"We obviously can't continue this way," said the board chairman of the Cleveland Indians, William Daley. What he meant was the home attendance, and his remark was made in connection with talk about Minneapolis getting a major league ball club — possibly Washington, possibly Cleveland.

From the "can't continue" statement he went on, "It's beginning to be evident that the Cleveland fans won't support us."

Lopez Says Chisox Shooting for First

NEW YORK (AP)—The Chicago White Sox have won seven in a row and Manager Al Lopez is back in business.

"Second place?" Al scoffed. "Hell, no! We're going to shoot for the moon. We can still catch those Yankees."

"Why not? What is it now, seven games we've made up on them in the last two weeks? They're not playing good ball and there's a lot of games left. We're 10½ games behind now. Who says we can't make up another seven or eight in the next few weeks?"

Finsterwald, 9 Others Knotted in Canada Test

EDMONTON, Alta. (AP)—Dow Finsterwald of Athens, Ohio, and nine others scored three-under-par 67s Wednesday in the first round of the $25,000 Canadian Open Golf Championship. Don January from Eastland, Tex., and Mike Fetchik of Yonkers, N. Y., led with 65s. Finsterwald had rounds of 33-34. A stroke back of him and tied with four others was Gordon Jones, Alliance, Ohio, who had 32-36—68.

Grand American Trapshoot Heads into Big Money Event

VANDALIA, Ohio (AP)—They separate trapshooting's Deadeye Dicks and Doras from the novices today as the 59th Grand American moves into the big money phase.

The preliminary handicap, a 100-target feature in which marksmen fire from 18 to 27 yards behind the traps according to their proved ability, is on the agenda.

A $1,000 purse goes to the winner and he can pick up thousands more in the optional wagering system. A $56 entry fee, including the optionals, is assessed each shooter and close to 2,000 were expected on the firing line.

About $90,000 in various purses will be awarded.

Today's preliminary is a dress rehearsal for the clay target sport's biggest classic, the Grand American Handicap, which will be fired over the same route Friday.

Shooters Wednesday wound up the 16-day phase of the annual tournament and the Waukesha, Wis., Gun Club walked off with most of the honors.

The North American clay target championships were decided in the 200-target feature, and Vic Reinders and Mrs. Nita Sommer, both of the Waukesha club, annexed the men's and women's titles. Eugene Durant, 16, finished second in the junior race to give the Wisconsin club an unprecedented sweep in this world series of trapshooting.

Reinders, who shattered all 200 targets to take the championship, is a chemistry professor at the Milwaukee branch of the University of Wisconsin. He is immediate past president of the Amateur Trapshooting Assn. and captain of Sports Afield magazine's all-American team.

The 51-year-old Reinders taught Mrs. Sommer to shoot and she hit the jackpot in her first trip here. She carries only an 87 per cent record for the year, but broke 99 and 96 in Wednesday's 100-target flights to tie Helen Monk Delmonico of Miami for the title and then defeated the southern red-head 24-23 in a shootoff.

Michael Baker, 14, of West Alexandria, Ohio, took the sub junior title with 192.

Dykes is Angling For Redleg Post

CINCINNATI (AP)—Jimmy Dykes says he'd like to have the job of managing the Cincinnati Redlegs next season but his chances don't look good.

Gabe Paul, Redleg general manager, didn't rule Dykes out completely, however. He said his previous statement that Dykes was not to be considered was not a thing beyond changing.

Dykes, 61, took over as acting manager of the Redlegs last week when Birdie Tebbetts resigned.

Wednesday at San Francisco he said, "Sure, I'd like this job permanently. Once you're a manager, you always want the job again."

Paul said present plans are to have Dykes finish out the season as the field boss of the Cincinnatians.

Tiger Gridders Open Practice

Bennett Planning Scrimmage Tests

With their work all cut out for them, Circleville High School's 1958 gridiron candidates donned uniforms for initial practice sessions yesterday.

From now until school starts, the Tiger hopefuls will hold drills twice a day at the Pick-away County Fairgrounds.

The opening game is scheduled September 12 when Athens travels here. Coach Tom Bennett said his charges will have a lot to learn and accomplish between now and the date.

In preparation for coming season action, the Tigers will get a taste of simulated game conditions September 5 when The Circleville High School Band Mothers present their annual Gridiron Preview under the lights on the local field.

This introduction to the football season has become an annual and interesting event here, with both the CHS band and the football team performing for local fans.

Coach Bennett said he is in the process of lining up some practice games for the Tigers, with the first one probably coming the latter part of next week.

Bob Shave Jr. Grabs Ohio Open Crown

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The afternoon heat took something away from Bob Shave Jr.'s final round. Some say it was the broiling sun and others say it was the hot breath on his back from the pursuing pros.

But whatever it was, it wasn't enough to keep the jubilant young Cleveland amateur from pocketing the Ohio Open Golf Championship and adding the biggest trophy yet to his growing collection.

The 22-year-old Florida State University senior finished with a shaky 74 Wednesday but three earlier 69s gave him a neat three-under-par 281 for the 72-hole event, five strokes better than his nearest rival.

Shave is only the fourth amateur to win the crown in the 35-year-old tournament.

Behind him, tied for second place, were two professionals, defending champ Ed Griffiths of Youngstown and Len Wagner of Cincinnati, who toured the 6,303-yard, par 36-35 Madden Park course in 286.

Wagner had the day's best round, a 68, on his final trip. The two money players divided $900 in cash prizes between them.

Two amateurs, Jack Nicklaus of Columbus and Jack Zimmerman of Dayton, tied for fourth with 287. Nicklaus, a 19-year-old Ohio State University sophomore, won the title two years ago.

Those Pesky Bums Cop 3rd Straight From Milwaukee

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Dodgers did it again! They blew some more foam off Milwaukee's National League lead Wednesday night, taking their third in a row from the Braves 2-1.

That slashed the champs' lead to 5½ games, with two games remaining in the series at Los Angeles before Milwaukee plunges into a five-game set with the second-place Giants at San Francisco.

The Dodgers got only four hits off Warren Spahn. At that, they needed only the last two, scoring in the fifth inning on Joe P

City Kids Operate Country Store at High School Fete

A bunch of city kids will be operating a country store here tomorrow afternoon and evening.

The "country store" is what Circleville High School senior classmen have labeled the nerve center of the carnival which they are to sponsor on the school's back lot.

Directed by the staff of the school yearbook, "The Circle," the carnival is operated to secure extra funds to foot publication costs of the volume which will come out next spring.

After gaining admission to the carnival grounds, patrons will go to the "country store" where they will secure tickets to everything else along the midway.

Such games of skill as balloon-bursting, candle-squirting, nail-pounding, ring-tossing, weight-guessing, penny-pitching and hat-tossing will bring prizes to the skillful.

IF PATRONS find they are not skillful, but still wish to take home a prize, they can secure their choice at one special department of the "country store."

Perhaps the most important department of the "country store" will be one under the direction of a country boy, John Dunlap III. His assignment is to start taking subscriptions to the 1959 issue of "The Circle." It will record the 101st year of high school life in Circleville.

Deena Musselman, editor-in-chief of the annual, said today that school administrators have given permission to transfer the carnival to the old school gym in the event that rain drowns the scheduled outdoor event.

A major sidelight to the carnival will be a variety show put on by high school students. It will be staged in the high school auditorium at 9 p. m. Entrance to the auditorium will be gained through the carnival lot.

The variety show will include the following:

Men Fined, Jailed For Petit Larceny

They are accused of taking hub caps from an auto owned by Frank Rhoades, Williamsport. The caps were valued at $30.

Each defendant was fined $75 and costs and sentenced to 15 days in jail. The court later suspended $25 of each fine and placed the men on probation for one year.

New GI Loans In Effect

Applications Are In Process

Questions of interest to ex-servicemen should be given to Pickaway County Veterans Service Officer, Jim Shea. His offices are in the basement of the Court House in Circleville.

By JIM SHEA

Q—I noticed in your last column that the maximum of a direct GI Loan was $13,000. I thought it was $13,500. Which is it?

A—The figure shown in my last column was a typographical error. The correct maximum of a direct GI loan is $13,500.

Q—Are any direct GI loans coming through yet? This new law was supposed to take effect July 1, I had my application in several months before that date, but have heard nothing yet.

A—Be patient — the direct GI loans are coming through at the present time, slow but sure. To my knowledge, there are about six or eight direct loan applications being processed in Pickaway County at the present time. If your application is pending we can do nothing but be patient and wait till you hear from the Cincinnati office.

Q—LAST YEAR, I received my National Service Life Insurance Dividend about the middle of May. I have not received any dividend yet this year. Aren't they paying any?

A—Yes, a dividend is being paid this year. You should receive it about the same time this year as you did last year. If not, I suggest that we get a letter off to the Philadelphia office at once, and see what has happened.

Q—I am receiving a Total Non Service Connected Pension. I have an income of about $400 per year from doing odd jobs. My wife recently went to work and will earn $2,500 per year. Since our total income exceeds $2,700 will I lose my pension?

A—You will not, since the VA does not figure combined income. The VA is only interested in the amount of income you yourself have. The income your wife has is not figured in any manner.

Q—A friend of mine, a World War II veteran, recently died of a service connected condition. Will his widow have a choice of obtaining death compensation payments

Commissioners, Trustees, School Boards To Meet Here

Pickaway County School Superintendent George McDowell has called a meeting for 8 p. m. tonight in the county common pleas courtroom of all boards of education, township trustees, commissioners, village council members and members of the county budget commission.

"The meeting has been called due to certain situations that have developed in regard to tax rates and levies in the county which seem to make this meeting a wise move," said McDowell.

McDowell continued stating that certain facts and figures concerning the general problems of tax rates for the county, schools, townships and villages will be presented. He hopes that as a result of this meeting a common understanding of the over-all situation will result in benefits to all county and local subdivisions.

The cause for meeting has been brought about by the consolidation of local school districts into three combined districts. In previous years the matter of school operating levies was easily handled by local subdivisions and school districts.

Now that several townships are combined under one school district, certain problems need better understanding. McDowell hopes to accomplish this in tonight's meeting.

This will be an open meeting, and the public is urged to attend
